PROJECTS

Bank Management System| C++ | Link Jun' 25

- Implemented classes, file handling, and a menu-driven interface to manage essential banking operations
- Developed a file-based system using object-oriented programming to efficiently handle and store customer account information
- Applied a structured Bank Management System with a text-based interface, allowing users to perform core banking tasks — simulating the operations of a virtual bank ledger.

Intelligent CPU Scheduler Simulator | HTML, CSS, JavaScript | Link Apr' 25

- Designed a CPU Scheduler Simulator to offer an interactive and visual approach to mastering key scheduling algorithms, enhancing understanding through direct experimentation.
- Simulated and visualized key scheduling algorithms like FCFS, SJF, Round Robin, and Priority Scheduling using this innovative interactive tool.
- Created a responsive website using HTML for layout, CSS for visual design, and JavaScript for dynamic and backend features.

Data saving services | Amazon AWS May' 25

- Constructed and launched a secure, scalable file-upload system using AWS Lambda and Amazon S3 entirely within the AWS Student Sandbox, without outside dependencies or custom IAM policies
- Used Amazon S3 for reliable data storage, AWS Lambda to generate pre-signed upload URLs, and AWS Cloud Shell for secure file transfers with URL.
- Established a fully AWS-native, lightweight upload workflow that improves data storage and retrieval, ensuring strong compatibility and security within the sandbox environment.
